Bicentennial Bash! Mattapoisett Inn Celebrates 200 Years of History

By Kenneth J. Souza

Mattapoisett's Shipyard Park is used to accommodating crowds in the summer with the town's annual Harbor Days Festival ... but this year things are going to be happening a little earlier as the landmark Mattapoisett Inn pulls out all the stops for a gala anniversary celebration marking the historic establishment's 200th birthday on Sunday, June 27.

An elaborate outdoor party will take place from 12:00 noon to 9:00 pm in and around Shipyard Park with a full schedule of entertainment including continuous live bands, tall ships gracing the waterfront, clowns and jugglers, food and drink — all combined to set the mood for eighteenth century family fun. Food tents will boast historic favorites, along with a children's canopy and beverage tents.

Expect to see people in period costumes, hay rides for the kids, and a raffle offering such exciting prizes as a hot air balloon ride for two, weekend in Vermont, day sail aboard a 55-foot yacht catered by the Mattapoisett Inn, and a moonlight cruise aboard a 44-foot private yacht including cocktails and appetizers.

Opened in 1799, the Mattapoisett Inn located at 13 Water Street is the oldest seaside inn in the nation still operating in its original structure. Built by Joseph Meigs, a master carpenter in the shipyards, he used the building as his home and also established the twin business of tavern and general store. The tavern was perhaps the busiest part of the Squire's domain, as the men of Mattapoisett were known to be a hearty lot. Proof of this is brought to light by the custom at one time observed by the shipyards known as "leven an four." At 11:00 am and 4:00 pm each day, the men took a break and the boss provided rum for refreshment.

The most famous person to live in the Mattapoisett Inn was perhaps Captain Charles Bryant, a Mattapoisett whaling captain who later became the first governor of Alaska. Tradition claims that Captain Bryant spent many hours sitting on the open upper porch of the inn, dictating or writing his memoirs. There has not been an owner of the old structure who has not dreamed of one day finding these historically-significant documents.

With the end of prohibition in the 1920's and the demise of the larger, nearby Mattapoisett House, the Bay View Hotel thrived under the management of Ella Madden Andrews, whose parents, Mr. and Ms. Thomas Madden, had opened the hotel in a former tavern in 1890. The structure was then blessed with a stunning view of Mattapoisett Harbor — which remains to this day — after Purrington Hall was razed and Shipyard Park was established.

Over the past two centuries, the tell-tale structure known as the Mattapoisett Inn has been a blacksmith shop, a general store, two separate dwellings, a tavern, a Ship Chandlers, a storehouse for the China tea trade, a speakeasy, and, of course, an inn.

Current proprietors Marc and Marlene Goddu have owned and operated the Mattapoisett Inn for the past 21 years, and they have strived to keep alive the stories and traditions of the building's past while making a bit of history of their own. This weekend's festivities promise to become a milestone event in both the history of the inn and the town. Residents, too, have adopted the Mattapoisett Inn as both an historic landmark and a friendly, familiar place to relax and enjoy the scenic town center.

And visitors often leave and return to the village with pleasant memories of the wharf dances and concerts in Shipyard Park, the striped bass and other fish caught at the end of the town wharf, the beautiful sailing weather on the blue waters of Buzzards Bay, the New England-style comfort, and the wonderful experience of staying at or dining in the historic Mattapoisett Inn.

Though the historic site has gone through several owners and name changes during the last two centuries — from the Bay View Hotel, to the Holiday House, to the Mattapoisett Inn — it has remained ingrained as one of the key attractions in the town center and a beacon to visitors gliding in from Buzzards Bay.

Following is a schedule of events slated for Sunday, June 27 in Shipyard Park, located directly across the street from the 200-year-old Mattapoisett Inn:

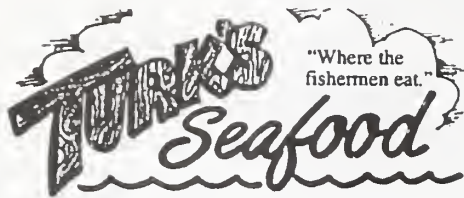

- 12:00 noon to 12:45 pm - The Beans (whaling chanteys)

On the cover: The historic Bay View Hotel, now known as the Mattapoisett Inn, situated on Water Street in the Mattapoisett village about a century ago. Despite a few name and proprietor changes over the past 200 years, the structure remains relatively the same. This weekend, a gala celebration commemorating the establishment's 200th birthday will take place in Shipyard Park on Sunday, June 27 from 12:00 noon to 9:00 pm. Marion Selectmen's Meeting

June 22, 1999

By Kenneth J. Souza

A regular meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen was called to order on Tuesday, June 22 at 7:00 pm by Chairman pro tem Jonathan "Jody" Dickerson. Also present were Selectmen Albert E. Winters, Town Administrator Ray Pickles, and Secretary Helene Craver. Selectman Loretta B. Schaefer was not present for the meeting.

After signing and approving treasury warrants #50A, #51, and #52, and unanimously approving the minutes of the June 8 meeting, the board approved an all-alcoholic beverage license for the Marion Art Center for performances of a play on July 1-3 and July 15-17 from 8:00 to 10:00 pm. They also signed and approved an amended renewal contract agreement with Public Prosecutor Harry Schmitt, noting that the Town of Wareham will no longer be contracted for said services after December 31, 1999.

Under incoming correspondence for the week, the board received a letter from Jack Miller thanking the Town of Marion, the Board of Selectmen, and Rob Zora and the Department of Public Works for their support of his Eagle Project to paint the band shell at Island Wharf. "In particular, I wish to acknowledge the effort of Mr. Marshall in getting materials, in providing expertise and, most importantly, in ensuring the project was completely safe," Mr. Miller wrote. "Without his help, the project would have taken considerably longer and would probably not have turned out as well."

The board asked that a letter of appreciation be sent to Mr. Miller and a similar one be placed in Mr. Marshall's file.

DPW Superintendent Rob Zora sent a memo to the board recommending that the Marion Transfer Station be closed on both July 4 and 5 due to the Independence Day holiday. Mr. Zora noted that because the holiday falls on a Sunday, the observance is on a Monday and this would preclude them from hauling any material from the site on either day. Mr. Pickles agreed with Mr. Zora's suggestion, saying it would cause problems in not being able to haul for two days. The board unanimously voted to grant Mr. Zora's request and agreed to close the Marion Transfer Station on both July 4 and July 5.

Mr. Pickles sent a memo to the board informing them that on June 15 he met with Roger Silva of the Massachusetts Emergency Management Agency (MEMA), Regional Sanitarian Karen Walega, DPW Superintendent Rob Zora, Richard Guerzoni and Linda Gilson from the Fire Department, Sergeant Lincoln Miller of the Police Department, and Marion Emergency Management Director Dale Jones. The purpose of the meeting was to review the town's emergency management plan and potential problems associated with the pending Y2K problem.

"I am pleased to report that Marion's emergency management plan is up-to-date and we appear to be well-prepared for Y2K," he wrote. With regards to an emergency shelter for the town in light of the fact that Sippican School will be undergoing renovations, Mr. Pickles said he would make arrangements with both the Marion Social Club and VFW as backup locations if needed. "I am confident that we will be able to offer the citizens of Marion public shelter, if necessary," he added.

The board next received a request for a temporary occupancy permit for a motorhome on July 3, 4 and 5 located on Lot 10 West Avenue (Planting Island). Mr. Pickles informed the board that the motorhome had been there for some time previously, and they are requesting a permit for the three days only. "My only concern is that it be approved by the Board of Health," he said. "If they remain longer than the three days, it's a violation of the zoning by-laws. Any permit issued should be contingent upon approval from the Board of Health." The board unanimously approved the temporary permit pending approval from the Board of Health.

Mr. Pickles also informed the board that the firm of Suburban Middlesex Insulation, Inc. from Norwood was awarded the contract for the asbestos abatement work at Sippican School. In order to begin work on schedule during the week of June 28, Mr. Pickles asked the board to sign and approve the contract contingent upon having the necessary bonds in place, so that work could begin ASAP. With that, the board unanimously voted to sign and approve the contract.

At 7:15 pm the board met with several younger residents to discuss a proposal for a skateboard park in the Town of Marion. Christopher May spearheaded the project with several friends, and Lisa Durr agreed to guide him in doing research on the internet and gathering information to present to town officials. "Chris has some ideas for a skating park for the tri-town area, not just Marion," Ms. Durr said. "He wants to change the stereotype associated with skateboarding and in-line skating. to proceed."

Ms. Durr went on to explain that unlike other sports such as basketball, tennis, and baseball, there are no safe, public facilities in town for skateboarders, in-line skaters, or BMX bikers. "New Bedford has a facility, the Fairhaven site is expanding, and Westport opened their new facility yesterday," Ms. Durr said. "Our children are going to have to leave town to skate — they're fine with that, but I'm not. I want them to be able to have a place close to home."

There are many options, according to Ms. Durr. A full-blown municipal skating park could cost upwards of $150,000. But there are companies which provide and install removable concrete facilities for around $10,000. "We need a 10,000-square-foot area, minimum, to do something," she said. "We're going to need a location and it's going to cost money. We plan to do a big campaign to raise funds for the project."

Police Chief Brian J. Scott even lent his support to such a project, citing himself as an "addicted golfer" and "avid roller-blader."

"We have a lot of people who donate land in town to the Sippican Lands Trust or for open space," he said, "maybe we could get someone to donate land for a multi-use facility. Young people shouldn't be condemned to playing in the streets."

The board members concurred that there is a need for such a facility — but there's also a need for all types of recreational facilities in Marion. "We're even now going to lose part of the ballfield with the expansion of Sippican School," Selectman Winters said. "I'd like to see a group look at all the town's recreational needs — it makes sense to look at this on a broader basis. I'd like to see a more comprehensive study done which looks at the town's future needs."

"It's a serious problem that we're faced with," agreed Selectman Dickerson. "I think we should look at the whole picture and come up with an all-encompassing plan."

With that, the board agreed to form a Recreation Facilities Study Committee to look into the needs for all recreational activities in town. The committee would be comprised of representatives from every sport and activity. Interested residents should contact the Board of Selectmen, c/o Marion Town House, 2 Spring Street, Marion, MA 02738. Several skateboard supporters present immediately volunteered to serve on the committee. In the meantime, Ms. Durr said they are seeking members for the newly-formed SouthCoast Skating Club, which will work specifically towards locating and developing a skating facility in Marion.

There being no further matters to come before the board, they unanimously voted to adjourn for the evening at 7:53 pm.

WILD BABY BIRDS

I found a baby bird on the ground. What should I feed it?

Baby birds are frequently found near their nests. If the bird has no feathers, try to find the nest and put the bird back. If the bird is mobile and feathered, keep dogs and cats away from the area and the mother bird will probably feed and care for it.

I thought that if I touched the bird the mother bird would smell my scent and would reject the baby. That's an old wives' tale as birds have poor senses of smell. Allowing the mother to raise the young increases their chances of survival.

the presentation of a special gift from Mr. and Ms. Vaughan to the Town of Rochester. The couple presented Chairman Cutler with a check for $3,066 for the purchase of a new portable defibrillator unit to be kept in one of the police cruisers to be used by "first responders" to emergency medical calls. The device will be used to help save the lives of people who go into cardiac arrest during those crucial first minutes.

"It makes sense to place (a defibrillator) in the police cruiser, but they're the first ones on the scene," Fire Chief Ashworth said. "They often arrive three or four minutes before we do ... that can make all the difference."

Police Chief Denham advised that his officers will have to be trained in the use of the defibrillator unit, and Chief Ashworth will both assist in maintaining the device and coordinating the training sessions.

"We'd like to thank (Mr. and Ms. Vaughan) for their donation," Chief Ashworth said. "This is a state-of-the-art unit and one of the best on the market. A lot of people don't understand how the defibrillator works ... it doesn't start the heart, it stops it. Just before someone goes into full cardiac arrest, the heart fibrillates ... this (device) stops the heart and helps it to return to regular rhythm. This will give people the best possible chance to survive." Chief Ashworth estimated that his department uses a defibrillator about 12 to 15 times a year on emergency calls.

Jack Ayers, Chairman of the Rochester Police and Communications Building Committee, asked the board

With the override election still pending, Chairman Cutler suggested they wait and see what happens at the polls on June 23 and then take it from there. "You're still in business until Wednesday," he said.

At 7:25 pm the board met with William Watson of the Rochester Police Brotherhood to hear a grievance on the union's behalf regarding the definition of a "work week" as it relates to vacation time. Chairman Cutler noted that the Police Brotherhood wanted clarification on whether a week was considered five or seven days under their contract with the town.

Officer Watson noted that the department's schedule is such that every officer works five consecutive days with two days off. "The way we're interpreting this is a week consists of seven days — five days of work and two days off," Officer Watson said. "In the town contract, it doesn't differentiate between the work week and seven-day pay period."

"Some of the new officers coming in have interpreted 'one week off' as 'seven days off,'" Chief Denham said. "We've always considered that five (working) days off."

Chairman Cutler clarified Officer Watson's concern by noting that the Police Brotherhood is looking to define "a week off" in the contract as "seven days off," not the five-day work week. As a result, they would be entitled to seven days of paid vacation as opposed to just five days paid and two days off.

The board agreed that the language in the existing police contract needed to be better-worded, but they didn't feel definition of "work week" warranted change. "I think it's clear by past practice that you have a seven-day work week," Selectman Ryan said.

"You get paid for five days when you're working and you get paid for five days when you're on vacation," Chairman Cutler said. "That doesn't change." With that, the board unanimously voted to deny the Police Brotherhood's grievance, but suggested that this issue be revisited during the forthcoming contract negotiations.

Under the Executive Secretary's report, Mr. Huntoon noted that the deed from the county for Mary's Pond has been prepared and they are ready to proceed with the signing after July 1. He also added that he has advertised for a new Selectmen's clerical position and will be advertising for a part-time Town Planner later in the week.

Chairman Cutler asked what the status of the "right of way" issue was over Constitution Way which runs by Town Hall, the Plumb Memorial Library, and the First Congregational Church. Mr. Huntoon said they are just waiting for a vote from the Board of Trustees of the Congregational Church, which owns the property.

In other matters, the board:

- Voted to have Mr. Huntoon advertise Requests for Proposals (RFPs) to hire an auditing firm to review the town's accounts for the past year, with bids due by July 19.

- Voted to send a letter of congratulations and appreciation to Norene Hartley, who was recently recognized by the Southeast Regional Planning and Economic Development District (SRPEDD) for her efforts in working on the town's Master Plan, with the Rochester

Upon completion of the improvements to the courts, the association would offer and coordinate recreational programs for tennis players of all ages. These might include group lessons, clinics, teams, leagues, and tournaments. Improved courts would also insure that Old Rochester Regional High School tennis teams have acceptable home courts.

This ambitious project cannot succeed without community support. Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

The Community Resources Network extends its appreciation and gratitude to all who helped to make our seventh annual Stone Soup Day a success. Stone Soup Day, held each Memorial Day weekend, is an appeal for donations of cash and staple food items to stock area pantries. Pantries provide a two-to-three day supply of food to nearly 500 people each month. Forty percent of those helped are children.

We thank Jimmy's IGA and the Stop & Shop in Wareham, Marion General Store, Plumb Corner Market in Rochester, and Onset Village Market for making collection sites available. The Wanderer was very helpful in publicizing the event. Our thanks also to our faithful volunteers who manned collection sites and who transported and sorted food items.

Fairhaven Homecoming Weekend

The Fairhaven Improvement Association will sponsor its 24th annual Homecoming Day Fair on Saturday, June 26 from 10:00 am to 5:00 pm in the historic center of Fairhaven. This is one of the largest, most popular public events held each year.

"For Sentimental Reasons," an evening of 1940's music and nostalgia, will return to Fairhaven's Town Hall on Friday, June 25 to open the weekend's Homecoming Celebration. The performance, sponsored by the Fairhaven Rotary Club, begins at 7:30 pm in the auditorium of Town Hall. Admission is $10 per person.

The show, which was greatly enjoyed last year, is performed as a 1940's war-time radio program, with a talented troupe of professionals offering their renditions of some of the most familiar tunes of the day. Interspersed between songs are delightful old radio commercials and announcements, some of which incorporate local references. An area in the front of the auditorium is set

As part of this year's Homecoming, the public is invited to a special flag-raising ceremony at Fairhaven High School at 8:00 am on Saturday, June 26. The town's "big flag" will be paraded through the newly-renovated 1906 building and the new addition before being brought to the flag pole on the front lawn. The high school will be open to visitors from 10:00 am to 4:00 pm on Saturday with a shuttle bus to transport people back and forth from the fair. On Saturday evening, from 6:00 to 8:00 pm, an all-class alumni reunion will be held at the high school. Fairhaven High School will also be open on Sunday, June 27 from 1:00 to 4:00 pm.

Originally based on the traditional "Old Home Days" popular throughout New England at the turn of the century, the Homecoming Day Fair features 175 booths of arts and crafts made by artisans from all over the Northeast. Foods, including stuffed quahogs, Portuguese linguica and caçõila sandwiches, and other fare are made by the Fairhaven non-profit and church groups. A luncheon will also be served inside the Centre United Methodist Church. Live entertainment and an art show are also featured. All day there will be rides on an antique fire engine for the children. The fair draws thousands of families, friends and visitors from around the country.

The town's center, where the fair is set, is an attraction in itself. The public buildings donated to Fairhaven about a hundred years ago by Standard Oil Company millionaire Henry Huttleston Rogers are splendid examples of European-style architecture in America. Visitors can see an Italian Renaissance library, a French Gothic Town Hall, and the magnificent Unitarian Memorial Church, modeled after a 15th century English Gothic cathedral. The buildings were all designed by noted New England architect Charles Brigham and are surrounded by unique herringbone pattern brick sidewalks.

A brochure of many of Fairhaven's summer events — including fairs, summer concerts, walking tours, and more — is available at the Fairhaven Visitors Center, 27 Center Street, Fairhaven. The center is open Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday from 8:30 am to 4:00 pm.

Mattapoisett Teen Dances

TWO FINANCIAL ASSETS

Owning a home is like having two financial instruments that make money for you every day, every month, and every year. One of these money makers is the appreciation in the resale value of the home. This rate of increase is always more than the inflation rate. In addition to price appreciation, you also enjoy the buildup of equity. Equity is the part of your mortgage payment that goes toward reducing the loan amount. When you sell the house, you collect your equity in cash.

The main difference between the two is that you only cash in on the price appreciation when you sell your home, but the equity is actually a form of savings that can be used as loan collateral. For instance, you can use a home-equity loan to borrow with considerable financial leverage. After you've built up enough equity in your property, you can arrange loans of thousands of dollars to finance a college education, vacation or some other important expense.

Fairhaven-Mattapoisett Kiwanis

The Fairhaven/Mattapoisett Kiwanis Club will participate again this year in the Fairhaven Homecoming Celebration on June 26 with a booth location near the front entrance of the Fairhaven Town Hall. The Kiwanians will serve savory stuffed quahogs and stuffed scallops, popular with seafood lovers, and Ocean Spray juice drinks. Admittedly, these seafood delicacies are in greater demand each year.

The Fairhaven/Mattapoisett Club is the local chapter of Kiwanis International (now in 76 countries worldwide) with the welfare of children as its primary objective. Regionally, Kiwanis of New England provide financial support for children in need of treatment from trauma at the Kiwanis Pediatric Trauma Institute (KPTI) at the New England Medical Center in Boston. Locally, Kiwanis participate in local projects and scholarships.

Sad as it may seem, it is estimated that up to as many as 25,000 children lose their lives because of accident-related injuries each year. More than 100,000 are permanently disabled, and 2.5 million are incapacitated for two weeks or longer. The vast majority of community hospitals are not adequately equipped to handle pediatric

In our local area, the Fairhaven/Mattapoisett Kiwanis Club is engaged in a fund-raising drive. Patrick Barry, a fourth grader at the Leroy L. Wood School in Fairhaven, is the victim of Duchenne's Muscular Dystrophy, a degenerative muscle disease for which there is no known cure. Because of a continued loss of strength, he is confined to an electric wheelchair and must be transported to his doctors in Boston and Connecticut. The family car cannot accommodate his wheelchair, and consequently, the Barry family is in dire need of a handicap conversion van. Due to the generosity of the local communities, the Fairhaven/Mattapoisett Kiwanis Club is approaching its goal of purchasing a van for the Barry family.

For many years, the local Kiwanians were aware of the need for a helicopter pad at St. Luke's Hospital in New Bedford. In 1993, due to the joint effort of the New Bedford and Fairhaven/Mattapoisett Kiwanis Clubs, the helicopter pad became a reality.

The club welcomes everyone to visit the Kiwanis

Costume Parade in Fairhaven

The celebration of Independence Day will come a day early in Fairhaven this year on Saturday, July 3. This is the date of the town's third annual American History Costume Parade and Independence Day Celebration, sponsored by the Office of Tourism. "This year the parade would have conflicted with church services in the town if we held it on the Fourth of July," said Tourism Director Christopher J. Richard. Once again, a select group of antique and classic autos will join the parade. A color guard will be provided by American Legion Post 166. The parade will be followed by the firing of the five Seacoast Defense cannons at Fort Phoenix.

At 9:00 am adults and children dressed as their favorite characters from any period in U.S. history will gather at the Spring Street entrance of Cushman Park for the parade. Everyone in town is invited to wear costumes for the march to Fort Phoenix. No advance registration is required. Step-off time is set for 9:30 am.

The parade will take a route south on William Street to Center Street, east on Center Street to Green Street, and south on Green Street to Fort Phoenix. At approximately 10:30 am, the Independence Celebration will be held at the historic fort. After a welcome and brief history of Fort Phoenix presented by Tourism Director Christopher J. Richard, excerpts from the Declaration of Independence will be read by Bryan Wood, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen. Natalie S. Hemingway will then lead the crowd in the singing of the National Anthem as the flag is raised. As a finale, under the command of Earl Faunce and Wayne Oliveira, all five of the large Civil War era Seacoast cannons will be loaded and fired over the harbor.

After a brief intermission, the band will resume with "Our Glorious Land" (J. Olivadoti), "Armed Forces Salute" (arr. B. Lowden), "1812, Ouverture Solennelle (finale, P. Tchaikovsky), "America, the Beautiful" (S. Ward), "The Stars and Stripes Forever" (J. P. Sousa).

MOVIE REVIEW

Army Fatigue

BY ROB GONSALVES

local@wanderer.com

■ The General's Daughter. Starring John Travolta and Madeleine Stowe. Directed by Simon West. Running time: 115 minutes. MPAA rating: R. At Flagship Cinemas in New Bedford and Cinema 12 at the North Dartmouth Mall.

Of the many questions swirling through my head after seeing The General's Daughter, a lurid and ludicrous new thriller, one question in particular stands out: Do the filmmakers think we're morons? We're certainly treated as such, right from the beginning. A military officer (John Travolta) is called to investigate the murder of a young female captain. When he sees her face, he recognizes her — and we do, too, because we've just seen him share two scenes with her. Yet the movie gives us a fleeting image of her from one of those scenes, as if we needed the reminder. Also, who else would we think it is? At this point, she's the only woman we've seen.

The movie doesn't trust us to make that connection, and it also thinks we're too dumb to make other connections that undermine the plot. The General's Daughter, based on a Nelson DeMille bestseller, never makes any sense. The characters (aside from Travolta's hero) exist only as red herrings. The young woman is found dead, naked, and bound spread-eagled in the middle of an army complex. Who put her there? Who killed her? Our natural desire to know gives the movie's first half a slight interest. But as the explanations pour in, like buckets of water drenching a mound of dirt, they just muddy the plot rather than clearing it up.

The young woman, as we might have guessed from the title, was the daughter of the army base general (James Cromwell). She also, apparently, had some rather colorful hobbies off duty, involving whips and chains. All this, and she's an expert in psychological warfare, too. The movie itself engages in psych warfare, flashing us with ugly images of the woman's past traumas, as if to explain both her kinks and her violent end, and as if she meant anything other than being a dead naked chick to titillate multiplex audiences.

Travolta is joined by a rape investigator, Madeleine Stowe, who tries to keep her dignity despite having very little to do. She and Travolta often engage in the sort of verbal ping-pong cherished so much by co-scripter

William Goldman, who never met a zinger he didn't like. Mostly, the snappy patter produces not laughter but impatience. Goldman does, however, write a deft scene between Travolta and James Woods, as the deceased's "mentor." Woods, amusing himself by batting his dialogue around as a cat toys with a mouse, is easily the best thing in the movie; he's also not around for long, but the film unwisely goes on without him.

Indeed, The General's Daughter continues to bore and insult us; the director, Simon West (Con Air), obviously thinks he's still working for Jerry Bruckheimer, and we get an early action scene — involving Travolta, an angry soldier, and a boat propeller — that seems to be tossed in so as not to lose us dummies in the audience. There is also an allegedly nail-biting climax in a mine field, which ends the only way such a formulaic thriller can end: the bad guy gets blown sky-high. Whoopee! Those who go to this movie expecting a serious military thriller had better be in the mood to laugh bitterly at their own expense.

The bitterest laugh comes at the very end, when a card informs us that "400,000 women are in the military." Well, what does that mean, given what we've just seen? Is the movie saying that atrocities perpetrated on female soldiers by male soldiers should be covered up so that women can continue to be allowed into the military? Or that women shouldn't be allowed into the military because things like this might happen? None of this, of course, matters a damn, since the dead woman is meant only as a corpse to animate a contrived whodunit. That important-sounding card at the end is the final insult to our intelligence, and the final nail in the movie's coffin.

This Week's Horoscope

by Linda Black

Weekly Tip: The sun is in Cancer, helping us learn how to save money and other resources. Cancers are excellent at that.

Aries (March 21-April 19). Watch your temper. People will be sensitive. Think carefully before helping a friend in trouble.

Taurus (April 20-May 20). Move quickly and you'll finish a lot of that old paperwork. Firm up your partnership agreements. The moon will be in Sagittarius. It's a good time to wheel and deal.

Gemini (May 21-June 21). You'll want to spend money for love, romance or children, not necessarily in that order. Work overtime. Take care of matters pertaining to a partnership.

Cancer (June 22-July 22). A family member wants to argue about everything. The moon will be in Scorpio, enhancing your romantic relationships.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22). Learn what you need to know to get past a barrier. If it's a summer cold that's got you down, take heart. It should clear up soon.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Accept invitations that will lead to an increase in your income. You may be stuck at home, but you don't have to stay there alone.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). These are your best days for getting money that other people owe you. The moon in Sagittarius makes it easier for you to learn.

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Finish up old paperwork. If you've got all your chores done, you'll notice an incredible burst of energy. Get out there and do something exciting.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Your friends seem more important than old paperwork, but don't neglect the latter for the former. There will be penalties if you overlook your responsibilities.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). A business partnership has your attention. Take advantage of an opportunity that presents itself. Finish up loose odds and ends.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). The sun going into Cancer directs your attention to the workplace and practical matters.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20). The moon in Libra entices you to spend money on worthy causes.

If You're Having a Birthday This Week: Put money into a household project. Clean up your scene, and love could be your reward.
